

TRAMPS ROUTED

Marshal Pearsey and Policeman Ross Raid Tramp's Den.

Had Fixed Up a Den Near Big Four—They Leave Town.

Last night word reached the police that a gang of "hoboes" had established a "den" along the Big Four tracks, south of the city in the vicinity of the new Big Four bridge, and Marshal Pearsey decided to make a raid on the place and drive them out of town.

It was first supposed that the man arrested by Marshal Pearsey last night, was connected with the gang and that they might know something about the recent burglaries which have been going on in this city.

In company with Policeman Ross and a representative of the Daily Republican, he started for the "hoboes' den."

As the party approached the place the tramps were found to be six in number and would have proved a good match for the police had resistance been offered. Policeman Ross inquired their business here and three replied that they were bound for Greensburg, one for Anderson, one for Muncie, and the other for Shirley.

They were ordered to stand up by officer Ross, and looked on while their carefully constructed house and "wind-break" were demolished and their fire put out.

They were then asked to choose between leaving town by ten o'clock or indulging in two weeks' work on the stone pile at Bainbridge's hotel. All promised to leave town, saying that the town was dead anyway, and that they were sorry they even came here.

Tramps have not bothered Rushville much this winter, and the action of the police last night is commendable. It is thought that we will see more of the "Wearies," however, in the next few months, as we are on one of the direct lines to the World's Fair.

CITY BADLY HURT.

Flood Damage at Indianapolis Will Require a Bond Issue.

Indianapolis, March 29.—The extent and magnitude of the great flood which visited this city, paralyzing business industries and wreaking havoc generally can better be understood when attention is called to the fact that in round numbers the damage to city property alone will amount to $200,000. The city officials thus compute the loss to Indianapolis although it is admitted that the estimate is only a rough one. On closer investigation it may be found that more money will be needed. The fund is needed to pay for the repairs to unimproved streets which were almost totally destroyed for miles in the flood district, the replacing of the small bridges over Pogue's run and Pleasant run and the rebuilding and strengthening of the bridges over Fall creek and White river. A bond issue for $200,000 to raise the funds to make the necessary repairs is contemplated. There is not enough money in the city treasury by any means to repair the damage. A bond issue will therefore be resorted to. In order that there may be no delay it is probable that $25,000 of city money will be transferred from special funds to which it was originally appropriated to create a special emergency fund.

Life Savers Lose Their Lives.
Marion, Ind., March 29.—The waters of the Mississinewa river are the highest they have been for twenty-two years, and three are dead as a result of its flood. They are: Robert Howe, Teddy McGovern and William Carter, all of Gas City. The three men were drowned in an attempt to save James Martin, his wife and three small children whose home in the lowlands was surrounded by water.

The "lead" of black lead pencils is now made from coke. It is ground and mixed with iron ore and chemicals, and subjected to pressure under great heat.

CAPTURED PRIZES.

Vladivostok Squadron is Reported to Have Been Getting Busy.

St. Petersburg, March 29.—It is reported that the Vladivostok squadron under the command of Capt. Reitzen, [Commander of Vladivostok squadron] stein, has returned to Port with several prizes including a Japanese warship.

Wei Hai Wei, March 29.—A Chinese junk which has arrived here reports having seen on the morning of March 28, eleven seaworthy Russian vessels maneuvering in the vicinity of a Japanese fleet, which was also maneuvering. No sound of firing was heard here.

London, March 29.—No official communication has reached the foreign office concerning the declaration of martial law at New Chwang, and officials are inclined to the opinion that this indicates that the Russian government has not yet sanctioned Viceroy Alexieff's action.

The declaration of martial law is somewhat anxiously discussed by the London newspapers, among which the question has arisen as to whether Russia is desirous of dragging China into the conflict. The Standard recognizing that the neutral powers may protest, considers that "it will be difficult to refuse to either belligerent the right to regard strategic considerations as paramount over all others in Manchuria." The Morning Post considers that Russia's action is calculated to relieve Japan of some embarrassment by removing some of the difficulties Japan would have experienced in dealing with New Chwang in the event of it becoming necessary to attack the Russian forces at that point.

No further news has been received here regarding the Port Arthur engagement with the exception that a Yin Kow correspondent says the Japanese bombardment badly damaged the forward barbette of the Russian battleship Czarovitch. The correspondent adds: "According to a rumor, sixty-five Japanese transports, escorted by four cruisers, approached New Chwang Saturday and then departed southward. It is stated Viceroy Alexieff will return to Europe in a few days." A New Chwang correspondent learns that the Japanese will not land an expedition in the Liao river valley before April 20 as their transports are still engaged in conveying troops to Korea. A correspondent at Shan Hai Kwang asserts that the Chinese have received official authorization to turn over to the Japanese the plant of the Shan Nai Kwan railway. A Tien Tsin correspondent says that in compliance with Viceroy Alexieff's demand the tartar general at Feng Tien has withdrawn his troops to a distance of sixty miles from Mukden. He adds that the Russians are now left in complete control of the revenue and other departments.

Volunteers No Longer Demanded.
St. Petersburg, March 29.—The general staff announces that for the present no more volunteers will be accepted. About 60,000 men have volunteered for service in the far East of which number 15,000 has been selected. It must be understood that those who have volunteered are men who are not subject to military service.

Severe Engagement Reported.
Seoul, March 29.—In an engagement March 23 which Japanese infantry had with cossacks between Anju and Chong Ju, the Japanese were victorious, but lost fifty killed.

Dumont and His Balloon.
Berlin, March 29.—Santos Dumont will sail for the United States in ten weeks with his No. 7 dirigible balloon with which he will make trials here next week.

Presbytery Next Week.
The ministers of the U. P. church that belong to this Presbytery will hold a conference or meeting here next week, mention of which was made in the Republican last week. The meeting will begin Tuesday at 1:30 and continue over until Wednesday evening.

School Entertainment.
The entertainment announced in this paper to be given at school number six, in Walker township, for Friday has been changed to Saturday night, April 2d. All are invited.

There are more millionaires and more paupers in Moscow than in the whole of England.

RESISTS ARREST

Drunken Man Fought Marshal When Accosted.

Acted Suspiciously and is Lodged in Jail.—Proved to be "Jim" Smith.

Marshal Pearsey's attention last night was attracted by the actions of a suspicious character whom he took to be a tramp and whom he thought might know something about the recent robberies in this city.

He was shadowed by the officer who followed him to the alley near the headquarters of the city fire department. There his actions were so suspicious that he was asked to give an account of himself. He replied that it was none of the officer's business, but used somewhat stronger language to that effect, and proceeded to get "sassy." The question was one that the officer had a right to ask, and Marshal Pearsey immediately placed him under arrest on the charge of drunkenness. A fight ensued in which the policeman was struck several times and it was necessary to give the fellow a good clubbing before he could be taken to jail.

When the Marshal placed the man in jail he forgot to search him and he returned to the work, in company with Officer Ross and a representative of the Republican.

When searched nothing was found on his person but a whiskey bottle, 90 cents in change and a small pocket-knife.

He was held on the charge of drunkenness and resisting arrest, but was released this morning by the police.

He corresponded exactly with a description given the Marshal of a man, tall, broad-shouldered, dark complexioned, with long black side-burns, and who wore dark clothes, and who had in his possession a fine watch which he offered to a citizen for $2.50.

It was afterwards learned, however, that the man arrested belongs to the county poor farm and goes by the name of "Jim" Smith. He is well known to Fred Geiger, and is said to be the one who nursed "Babe" Geiger at the time of his confinement in that institution.

Supply Company Meets.

The stockholders of the Rushville Supply company met at the court house last night, and decided to buy piping and begin to lay the mains and make connections as soon as possible so that their gas can be used. The completion of the work depends on their ability to get pipe, which is at present hard to get, the demand on the pipe foundries being very great.

Tasajo, or jerked beef, is the principal export of Uruguay, the amount being 8,500,000 pounds per annum. The great market for it is Cuba.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Man and Boy Nearly Meet Death By Drowning at Raleigh.

On last Saturday morning, when the water in Flatrock was at its height, James Odell and son attempted to ford that part of the stream that overflowed the road east of the Raleigh bridge. Their horse became scared at the waves and left the road. The force of the rapidly flowing water drove the buggy against the fence, south of the road. Mr. Odell called loudly for help, and a strong force was soon at hand. Henry Newman rode in on horseback and rescued the boy. Earl Wilson drove in with a farm wagon and with the help of Harry Prine, John Newbould and Raymond Davis, soon brought man, buggy and horse to the shore in safety. Mr. Odell realizes what a narrow escape he had and is very thankful to his rescuers.

Antis Secure First Blood

The liquor element at Knightstown has received the first knockout in the fight made by the temperance element and State Anti-Saloon League to rid the town of its only saloon. After considering the application at different times for the last two weeks, the Henry county commissioners, Saturday, refused to grant Alexander McCarty a license. The blanket remonstrance, which freed Knightstown of its saloons, five in number, two years ago, was not sufficient this time, and other clauses of the Nicholson law were used, on which to base the action of the commissioners. McCarty proved the remonstrance not according to law and the fight was made on character, etc. The case will be appealed to the Circuit court.

IN THE HOUSE.

The Ever Present Race Question Bobs Up Again.

Washington, March 29.—The sundry civil bill before the house has called out a debate of wide range. Mr. Gillett, of Massachusetts devoted considerable time to answering some of the statements recently made on the floor by Mr. Spright, of Mississippi, regarding the race question. Mr. Gillett said he had supposed there were no social grades in the United States, but that every man had the right to choose his own friends and associates among those most in sympathy with himself. He defended the president for inviting Booker Washington to dine with him and said the president was a man of a big heart, as well as birth, breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Clark, Missouri, made a speech on the tariff and declared unequivocally in favor of the tariff program for the Democratic party as outlined by Mr. Willaims, the floor leader of the minority.

A strong plea for the tobacco growers was made by Mr. Trimble, of Kentucky, who urged the removal of the tax of six cents a pound on raw tobacco in order that the producer might sell direct to the consumer.

ON THE MARKET

Supplies Are Now Coming in at a Great Rate.

Goods First Class and Prices Fairly Reasonable—Strawberries High.

Now that the robins and blue birds are arriving from the South, and the weather is of that balmy kind which causes that old-time malady, spring-fever, the people are beginning to search for green stuff on the counter of the retail grocery stores. There is a good supply of fresh vegetables, etc., at present on the local retail market, nearly all of which is shipped from the South.

Radishes are selling for 5 and 10 cents a bunch; beets, 10 cents a bunch; new carrots and new turnips, 10 cents a bunch; onion, 5 cents a bunch; lettuce, 20 cents a pound; cauliflower, 10 and 20 cents a head; spinach, 10 cents per bunch; celery, 8 to 10 cents per stalk; old potatoes, $1.30 per bushel, and sweet potatoes 15 cents per quarter peck.

Some Florida strawberries are now on the local market, but the price is very high, selling for 60 cents a quart.

Other fruits and their prices run as follows: California navel oranges, 20 to 50 cents per dozen; Florida oranges, which are scarce, sell at 30 cents, the top price per dozen; bananas, 15 to 20 cents a dozen; apples, Northern Spies, 60 cents a peck, while the cheaper grades run from 25 to 50 cents per peck; lemons, 20 cents a dozen.

The different railroads which enter the city are bringing more and more of this kind of freight every day, and dray-load after dray-load leaves the different freight depots throughout our city early each morning for the up-town stores. It will not be long, however, until these imported fruits and vegetables will begin to give way to our home-grown products.

In the dressed poultry line, chickens are selling at 15 cents per pound; ducks, 60 cents a piece, and turkeys, 20 cents per pound.

Oysters are still as good as in the colder weather and sell, in bulk, for 50 cents per quart. The season for oysters is nearing its end however.

In cheese—New York cream, of late fall make, is selling at 22 cents a pound; domestic, 20 cents a pound; while domestic limberger and brick is selling at 25 cents a pound.

Provisions of every kind are high at this time of the year, but the coming spring will bring relief, and these luxuries, which are now so high priced, can, in a few weeks, be enjoyed by everyone.

NOTHING TO SAY.

Senator Burton Refuses to Discuss His Conviction.

St. Louis, March 29.—Joseph Ralph Burton, senior United States senator from Kansas, was convicted by a jury in the United States district court on the charge of having accepted compensation to protect the interests of the Rialto Grain & Securities company, of St. Louis, before the postoffice department. The jury deliberated forty-one hours.

A motion for a new trial was immediately filed by the counsel for the senator. Senator Burton went directly from the courtroom to the Southern hotel after the verdict was rendered, and retired to his room for rest. After a time he went to the hotel lobby and sat around talking with friends who occasionally dropped in. Apparently he was very nervous, and his appearance was worn, the anxiety of the past week having very perceptibly left its effect. When asked if he had anything to say concerning the verdict, he hesitated a few moments, and then with a gesture of his hand, said: "I refer all inquiries to my attorneys. You certainly appreciate the situation and understand that I have nothing to say."

The United States and Great Britain together handle more letters and periodicals than all the rest of the world combined.

HIGH SCHOOL SQUIBS.

Don't forget to read the Budget. How about that Alumni Association?

Mystery hangs over the Latin department.

The State and Nation class is reviewing this week.

Base ball—Shelbyville vs. Rushville—April 9th, 1904.

The date for the Senior-Junior reception has not been decided upon.

Samuel Murphy was a visitor, Monday morning, the guest of Eugene Miller.

Frank Caldwell, popularly known as "Ben" made a short visit to school, Monday morning.

The base ball team had two scheduled practice games last week. We need more good weather.

We are glad to see our old school mates, John Link and Hugh Mauzy, now of Earlham, at home.

Miss Abbott has started a livery stable. She has a large stock of ponies. More coming every day.

The High School boys delivering papers, were absent part of Monday morning, on account of late trains.

The I. U. students from Rushville and vicinity experienced some difficulty in reaching home on account of the floods.

The base ball team needs two weeks of good hard practice to be in shape for the Shelbyville game. The boys who are trying for the team should not neglect any opportunity to practice whenever the weather permits.

It is sincerely hoped by all the pupils that the C. H. & D. bridge at Julietta will be repaired by Thursday, so that the teachers may be able to attend the Association meeting at Indianapolis, Thursday and Friday. Of course, the pupils don't care to get out of school.

Clifford S. Lee has for sale at 20c. each four pictures of the Mandolin club, one of the exterior of the High School building, one of the '04 Physics class, and one of Prof. Stewart's room. This is your last chance to get one of these pictures, as Mr. Britton, the photographer, has left the city.

The absentees are too numerous to call for mention this week. The Shelbyville H. S. Squib says that the idea of our winning from them is a "mince pie dream." Let every pupil get ready for the opening game of ball on April 9th, with Shelbyville, by making banners, purchasing ribbons, making megaphones and learning the yells. Shelbyville is coming with an enormous delegation and we must not let them out root us.

An Illinois Tragedy.
Danville, Ill., March 29.—C. M. Smith shot his wife twice, and, pursued by citizens, shot himself. The citizens, believing him to be dead, left the body to advise the police. Looking back they saw Smith running along the banks of a creek and started in pursuit again. They had nearly reached Smith when he cut his throat with a razor. He died in a few hours. The wife's wounds are not fatal.

Didn't Long Remain Free.
Chillicothe, O., March 29.—Jim Anderson and "Kid" Duncan, who recently escaped from the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, O., were captured here. The men were identified by Robert Meredith, an ex-convict.

Payne Makes Slow Progress.
Washington, March 29.—The condition of Postmaster General Payne continues favorable although the progress toward recuperation in his weakened state is very slow.

It is not believed that there will be any more candidates for Marshal.

"A professional reformer is sometimes only an appetite for power that mistakes itself for moral courage."

Do not forget when you go into the city convention that the success of the ticket is the one thing to be considered. Men should be placed on the ticket whose character and politics are not questioned. Men, who if elected, will serve the people in an able and satisfactory manner.

No matter how well anything is done elsewhere, New Castle always tries to go them one better. They have the biggest rains, the highest floods, the best paved street, the meanest groundhog, the dirtiest streets, the highest priced sewers, the most reliable madstone, the meanest "pole in the street," the largest piano factory, most greenhouses and now come to the front with a forger named Jay Gould Jay. Had we been the victim of a forger, he probably wouldn't have had any more respect for this vicinity than to have given his name as plain John Smith.—Well, one thing certain, if New Castle don't get a hump on her self, she will not be able to pull off an explosion as big as the one at Knightstown for some time to come.

The following "editorial" appeared in half dozen of our Democratic exchanges:

Republican papers continue to blow
 about paying off eight million dollars of the State's indebtedness. Democratic legislatures passed the laws
 that raised the funds to pay the debt.
 The money came into the treasury and had to be applied to its intended purpose or wilfully squandered. Now the Republican officials are claiming credit for not wilfully squandering the money. And on second thought they are entitled to much credit when the example of the national administration is considered. We therefore join in the chorus in praising our State officials for not turning grafters.

That the Democrats passed some laws to raise funds is not denied.
 They always do that, as it becomes necessary to pay off indebtedness they have incurred after they have been in power for a time. A bond issue and an indebtedness is just as common during a Democratic administration as a hearse at a funeral. The work of discharging the enormous State debt
 did not start until the Republicans came into control. It may be a coincidence, but it is a never failing one.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The entire lowland region in the river
 section of California is in the grasp of a flood.
 Charles G. Foster, a clerk employed in the White House office, shot and killed his wife and himself.

Thousands of dollars' worth of damage has been caused to the Erie canal by the flood in the Mohawk valley.

The president has sent to the senate the nomination of Joseph W. J. Lee, Maryland, to be secretary of legation at Panama.

Russians discovered a vessel loaded with Chinese at Elliot Island, in tow of a Japanese vessel. The Chinese and Japanese vessels were

The investigation of the protests against Senator Reed Smoot will be resumed April 13 by the senate committee on privileges and elections.

HONOR TO WORTH

Indiana's Attitude Toward Efficient
 Congressman.

Indianapolis, March 29.—Indiana's
 Republicans are preparing to re-nominate Congressman Overstreet for the sixth term to represent this district and in doing so they are but taking another step in the general plan being followed by Republicans over the state to do honor to men who have proved their worth. For years Indiana followed the old-time custom of changing her congressmen almost at every opportunity. There was an unwritten law that two terms at the most were all that any man should aspire to. The politicians believed in the theory that the office was one which should be passed around and that while so many men had congressional aspirations some arrangement
 should be made for passing the job
 on from one to another. In late years the idea has changed, however. People have come to understand that a congressman's worth depends largely on his ability to do things for the district and that only continued service can give a man that familiarity with affairs which can make him really useful. Just at present Indiana occupies a higher position of influence in congress than was ever the case before. This is the result of the new custom of sending a man back to Washington as long as he proves his value. Mr. Overstreet is one of the men who have done things and it is probable that a grateful constituency will remember him for some time to come.

Indianapolis citizens have been giving another object lesson regarding the city together with an idea of the great area over which the city extends. This was impressed upon their minds as never before by the recent flood. The streetcar service was paralyzed for hours owing to the flooding of the power stations. The stopping of the cars forced thousands of people who live in suburbs to walk home
 Sunday night and down to work again on Monday morning. Men and women who have made their homes on the outskirts have become so accustomed to the daily streetcar rides that the real distance they cover every day
 has never been impressed on them.
 The stopping of the cars Sunday in many instances forced the fact home to them, however. Thousands of people had taken long trips from home to various flooded sections to see what havoc the waters had done. Some of them found themselves anywhere from three to seven miles from home, and without means of transportation. To men unaccustomed to much walking to cover this distance meant a great deal and it is unlikely that they will venture out again soon to see floods or anything else without knowing the cars will be able to bring them back again.

The close approach of Easter has caused people generally to rejoice in one fact and that is that the price of eggs has decreased wonderfully in the last few weeks. A month ago it seemed that there could be no celebration of the day because of the scarcity of eggs which are the making of the day to a certain extent. Eggs were selling at forty-five cents a dozen and there are few people who could have indulged in the custom of eating eggs on that day, let alone thinking of buying scores of eggs to be used for coloring purposes. The prices have suddenly become reasonable, however. This week farmers who bring fresh eggs to the city have been offering their supply at nineteen and twenty cents a dozen. Inasmuch as the great egg day is close at hand this reduction is greatly appreciated and preparations are now being made by hundreds of people for decorating eggs where a few weeks ago it seemed likely that only the rich could enjoy the luxury.

Drunken Boy's Crime.

Janesville, Wis., March 29.—George Griffin, aged fifteen years, son of Yardmaster David Griffin, of the Northwestern road, was shot and killed by John Condon, aged sixteen years. A little before he had made an attempt upon the life of another boy, Richard Barry. Condon went to the Griffin home and without warning fired at young Griffin, killing him almost instantly. It is said that Condon, who is the son of a saloon keeper, was intoxicated. Last week he rescued from drowning the boy he shot down.

Murder and Suicide.

Pittsburg, March 29.—Timothy Sullivan, a mill-worker, of McKeesport, aged twenty-nine years, shot and killed Cecilia Farrell, aged twenty-seven, and then put the pistol to his own head inflicting a fatal wound.
 The crime was committed at the home of Miss Farrell, on Fulton street, this city. Sullivan was engaged to marry the woman but she had tired of his attentions and declined to marry him.

Fatal Stabbing Affray.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 29.—During a free-for-all saloon fight, in which Jack Richardson and George Richards, traveling dancers and musicians,
 were pitted against the Washburn brothers, John Washburn was stabbed in the throat and abdomen and was dangerously injured. Richardson had his throat cut, but will recover. Washburn is likely to die. All the princ-pals in the affray refuse particulars.

Bank Cashier Sentenced.

Paris, Tex., March 29.—S. J. Spotts, former cashier of the First National bank at Petty, pleaded guilty in the federal court to the charge of embe-zlement. Judge Bryant proceeded at once to pass sentence of five years
 on him.

LEOPOLD'S REPLY.

Belgium's King Denies the Reports of Atrocities in the Congo.

London, March 29.—An American news agency addressed a telegram to Leopold, King of the Belgians, saying that it would be happy to cable to the United States any statement which his majesty might see fit to make in relation to the charges against the government of the Congo
 Free State regarding atrocities committed upon the natives, made to President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay
 by a delegation from the missionary congress, and in reply to which his majesty, through his secretary promised to mail official documents from the Congo Free State in which would be found all the facts essential to a full and truthful statement of the case.

These official documents were forward by King Leopold and were received by the news agency last night. They include papers issued by the government since June 1903 in which the Congo Free State replied to the charges of oppression and of cruelty towards the natives and to criticisms of the economic regime and the charge of a violation of the general act of the Berlin conference. A synopsis of the contents of these papers has been published in a blue book and elsewhere from time to time as issued. They enter in the closest detail, into the various charges, replying to them in like detail and quoting at length from the reports resulting from numerous investigations, especially that of Roger Caseament, the British consul in the Congo Free State, whose report regarding mutilations and other cruelties is severely criticised. In these documents
 it is asserted that Consul Casement gathered the details for his report largely from unsupported native statements, which afterwards proved to be utterly untrue.

The document is forwarded in an endeavor to demonstrate by careful data that there is good reason to doubt the reliability of these specific instances of cruelty and oppression as given by Consul Casement and others because of their dependence upon hearsay testimony. At the same time it is pointed out that these replies to the charges are only a preliminary step and that a close investigation of the situation is still proceeding under the orders of the king of Belgium and that after this investigation has been closed the fullest report of it will be given to the public.

A BRITISH LAMENT

American Gold Puts London in a Reflective Mood.

London, March 29.—It is announced that the manuscript of Milton's "Paradise Lost," which was offered for sale at public auction Jan. 25, but which was withdrawn because the reserve price of $25,000 was not offered, has now been sold to an American collector, whose name and the amount paid
 are not disclosed.

The Daily Telegraph editorially expresses regret that the heirloom was not preserved for the British nation and says: "Let us be thankful that Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's cathedral are not portable, or otherwise,
 they would be purchased by an American millionaire."

Charge Against Young Woman.

Philadelphia, March 29.—Miss Nellie Maguire, daughter of Richard Maguire,
 a former ink manufacturer of New York, is held in $10,000 charged with forgery. Her accused is Mrs.
 Henrietta A. Crosby at whose home Miss Maguire and her mother had apartments. It is charged by Mrs.
 Crosby that Miss Maguire represented herself as Mrs. Crosby and forged her name to several mortgages on which she borrowed money to the amount of nearly $10,000.

Coliseum's Seating Capacity.

Chicago, March 29.—The sub-committee of the Republican national committee, having in charge the arrangements for the national convention in this city, in going over the arrangements made for seating found that the total number of seats in the hall will be 8,428. Of these 500 will be on the stage and 275 will be for the press; there will be 990 seats for delegates and the same number for alternates, leaving 5,673 for spectators.

Aquino Has Been Pardoned.

Washington, March 29.—Following the recommendation of Secretary Taft
 the president has granted a full pardon to Servilliano Aquino, the brigadier general in the Philippine's insurgency army, who was sentenced by a military committee to a long term of imprisonment for having, it was alleged, ordered the summary execution of five American prisoners during the insurrection in the Philippines.

Eight Deaths by Storm.

Little Rock, Ark., March 29.—Last week was a week of storms in Arkansas. Wires are still down in the northwestern part of the state and the extent of the damage to property and

A MYSTERIOUS VALENTINE

An Original Story in Three Parts, Written by Mrs. Kate Churchill-Allen, Mrs. Dr. Wooden and Miss Dove Meredith Respectively, and Read before the Monday Circle Feb. 14th.

CHAPTER II.

(By Mrs. Anna H. Wooden.)

In a beautiful suburb, some five miles from the heart of the city of Rushville, located on a picturesque hill, surrounded by trees so tall and stately as if proud of their ancestry, stands a quaint, old, colonial mansion, where have resided some two or three generations of the Morris family. But time, with his unsparing hand, has left only Earnest Morris with his wife and two children, and his youngest sister Jeanette. The Morris's were a wealthy, aristocratic family, and Earnest and Jeanette were not unlike their ancestors. Mr. Earnest Morris, like his father before him, was an energetic business man with little time to spare for anything else. His sister, Jeanette, had always been a worldly society girl, with no thought of anything after her college days were over, but to have plenty to read and to have a good time. She was kind-hearted, had a loving disposition, and was a great favorite in society, for her position in life had not spoiled her, thanks to her parents, who were very careful that their children's training should be along sensible lines. Yet she had never been allowed to give herself any concern for the many thousands about her not so fortunate as she, for her mother was very careful to keep her only daughter away from anything that might mar her happiness in any way, thinking that the cares of life would come soon enough when she might not be able to keep them away. Thus Jeanette Morris' life had been one of gaiety until the death of her mother, which occurred two years before the beginning of this story.

After the death of Mrs. Morris her son, Earnest, with his family, moved into the old home in order that his sister might remain there, for he loved his sister dearly and had cared for her like a father, and also that the old mansion might remain the home of the Morris's.

With this change there came a great change in the Morris home. Mrs. Earnest Morris was a Methodist minister's daughter, and had been reared after the style of the old-fashioned Methodist rules. She had received a fine education, was cultured, refined and a truly Christian woman in every sense of the word. While Mr. Morris paid little attention to this phase of things, having been brought up first as a young man of society, and next, but not least, a strictly business man, yet he loved his wife dearly and did not object to her bringing up their children after the manner in which she was reared. And so the old home was changed from a place of parties, dances and gay society, to a quiet, modest home and resting place.

Mrs. Morris loved Jeanette dearly, it made her sad to see the once bright, gay, light-hearted girl so changed—for Jeanette had never been the same girl since the death of her mother. They attributed this change in her wholly to her loss, for indeed it was a great loss—no one knows how great—unless experience has taught him. With Jeanette her mother was her "mother" her "companion," her "all," but poor girl, she had had more than this. She carried another burden and carried it alone—no one knew, and therefore no one sympathized.

Shortly before the death of Mrs. Morris, Mr. Paul Wilson, a brother of Mrs. Earnest Morris, came to pay her a visit. Mr. Wilson lived in the far West and had not seen his sister since she was married—his physician having advised him to go to California on account of ill health—he had his arrangements all made and left his Northern home on the day that his sister started for her new home in Virginia, and now after ten years of separation he came to pay her a visit. It was in the winter and life and gaiety were at their height in the city of Rushville, and Jeanette planned no small part in society. Mr. and Mrs. Morris took no part in these social affairs but while her brother was there they received numerous invitations, their many friends being anxious to meet this handsome young brother from California.

Mr. Paul Wilson was a fine looking young man—twenty eight years of age—tall, rather slender—with dark curly hair and beautiful deep blue eyes through which shone a clear conscience and a kind loving heart. His training had been the same as his sister's and though he left home for the far West when only eighteen years of age, the voice of his father from the pulpit and the prayers of his mother from the pew made impressions that grew stronger each year that he was away.

While Mr. and Mrs. Morris did not accept the many invitations which they received, yet they quietly entertained many of their young friends, and Jeanette and Mr. Wilson soon became quite intimately acquainted and spent many happy hours together—for he was a fluent talker and had many interesting things to tell about his travels.

This acquaintance marked a new epoch in the life of each of these young people. Jeanette had many admirers—liked them all—but cared for none in particular. But now she was confronted with something altogether new, for she felt an admiration for Paul Wilson that she never knew before; but he was a man so different from her ideal that she had always pictured for herself, that she determined no one should ever know anything about it, and even though this might be love, she would get over it when he was gone and the gay life that she led would soon be the means of making her forget all about him. With her mind fully made up to this she went on just the same as she had in helping her brother entertain their guest to the best of her ability.

Saginaw, Mich., March 29.—Joe Gans, of Baltimore, the light weight champion of the world, was awarded the decision over Gus Gardner, of Saginaw, at the end of ten rounds of fast fighting at Arbeltor hall here last night.

Grand Rapids Breathes Easier.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 29.—Flood conditions in the Grand river valley have greatly improved and unless there should be a fall of rain, which is threatened, further danger from high waters has passed.

CORRESPONDENTS

Carthage.

Joe Clark and Will Winship, of Rushville, were in Carthage, Sunday.

Howard and Clyde Henley drove to Rushville, Friday night, and returned home in the heavy rain storm.

Frank Weingart, of Kendallville, visited relatives here Sunday.

Dr. F. M. Miller was the guest of friends at Indianapolis, Sunday.

Earl Henley will leave Tuesday for Napo, California, from which place he will have a twenty-mile drive by stage to the point where he will be employed by the Santa Fe, in construction work for that road.

Profs. J. H. Scholl, E. A. Ianning and Miss Ludlow will attend the Southern Indiana Teachers' Association at Indianapolis, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Ethel H. Stevens was hostess for the W. L. C., Monday. "History of Churches" was the topic for study. Mrs. Nancy H. Walker told of the Methodist; Mrs. Libbie J. Hill, of the Friends; Mrs. Ora D. Henley, of the Christian, and Mrs. Lizzie P. Hill, of the Presbyterian churches. Mrs. Stevens recited "Creed of the Bells."

Miss Grace Nixon, of the S. & S. O. Home, was a visitor here Saturday and Sunday.

The ladies whom Mrs. E. J. Dunn entertained several weeks ago with a bob-sled party, called on her in a body, Friday afternoon, and completely surprised her. At a late hour, cakes, coffee and confections were served.

The Ripley Township Republican convention, which was to have been held Saturday, was postponed on account of the high waters, many roads to town being impassable.

Blue river and its tributaries began to rise rapidly Friday afternoon about four o'clock, and by midnight all were raging torrents. The foot bridge on Water street was swept away, the cement walks undermined at the south Main street bridge, several houses surrounded by water, the supports of the railroad bridge, north of town, and other bridges weakened, and there were many washouts. Mrs. Bass abandoned her home on Water street, Friday evening. Much live stock was removed to places of safety. The south-bound passenger train due here at 3:06 p. m., did not arrive until 1 o'clock, Saturday morning. This division of the Big Four has done a heavy business, seventy-four trains from the C., H. & D. and other lines of the Big Four having run over this division since Saturday, with more to follow. The Florida special was detained here an hour Saturday night, the passengers patronizing hotel and restaurant.

Raleigh.

S. H. Saul, of Elwoode, visited his brother D. P. Saul, a part of last week.

The M. E. congregation will organize a Sabbath school on next Sunday afternoon.

Flooded was higher last Saturday than any time since 1891.

Mrs. E. P. Huffer and daughter, of Colorado, are visiting the family of her brother, B. F. Martin.

Milo, the infant son of E. L. Aiken, after a long and serious illness is getting well.

Franklin the little son of B. F. Martin, was very sick of pneumonia last week but is now better.

Dr. C. L. Smullen is not yet restored to his usual health but is able to resume his practice.

Phil Dickerson, of Ft. Wayne, visited the family of his brother-in-law, Edson L. Aiken, one day last week.

Sylvester Spencer and daughter, Mrs. Kuhn, of Connersville, spent last week with Ed V. Jackson and family. Mr. Spencer is putting an addition to Mr. Jackson's house.

Edwion Shepler made a trip to New Castle, last Friday.

Misses Bunker and Trobaugh spent Friday night and Saturday in Rushville. Miss Bunker intended to make a business trip to Connersville, but the flood prevented her doing so.

Manilla.

"Monk" Elders, the ex-section boss, who recently left for parts unknown, has returned to the fold, from whence no man goeth unless advised by the council.

Mrs. Florence Jones, of the Bell Telephone Co., was in Shelbyville one day last week.

Those good old "fishin'" days are now appearing and it makes a feller feel like stayin' right along the bank of the stream until some "fish commissoiner" blows his horn.—Exodus.

Easter exercises will be held at the M. E. church, Sunday evening, April 3d. Extensive preparations are being made for the occasion.

Earl Haymond, of Waldron, was here over Sunday.

Mr. C. M. Taylor and daughter, Miss Benretta, were at Indianapolis, Friday last, on business.

A jolly crowd of young men attended the sugar camp, north of town, last Thursday evening and enjoyed a very pleasant time roasting chickens, etc.

We notice in the Jacksonian an article stating that V. E. Taylor has accepted a position as "cartoonist" for the new Daily Republican, and wish to say that this was a misprint for Mr. Taylor has left for "Paris" to resume his studies.

Hon. Lon. H. Mull left for Columbus, to join a party of railroad officials on their special train, and will be gone for a few days.

M. C. Martin, traveling salesman for the Indianapolis Saddling Co., was visiting friends her last week.

Miss Aultie Whisman has gone to Waldron to engage in the millinery business.

Rev. W. G. Proctor is holding a series of meetings at Homer.

Elder Hopkins delivered two excellent sermons at the Christian church, last Sunday.

Mrs. Rose Trees has been afflicted with the grip for the last week.

The first "interurban car" has never put in its appearance, notwithstanding the fact that the track has been built by artificial air for some time past.

Two "Japs" went up in a balloon which met with an accident when up about 2000 feet, and spilled the occupants. The "Japs" came down so fast it changed their nationality. One lit on a telegraph wire and came down a "Pole" while the other came down a "Russian."

High waters have destroyed bridges on the main line of the J. M. & I. R. R. compelling their trains to run via Cambridge City to Indianapolis.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Green was buried last Saturday at Bennett's cemetery.

Tontogony.

Glenwood.

Floods! Floods! The floods did quite a good deal of damage in this vicinity. Bridges were washed out; ditches were made across roads, and much damage done in general.

The rural carriers were hindered from making complete trips. The route carrier on No. 27 came nearest of making a complete trip. He missed only four miles.

Trains did not run on the C., H. & D. for two days. The schools are closed in Fairview township and Orange township of Fayette county.

The schools of Union township will close on Friday next.

Robt. N. Hinchman, our newly appointed township trustee, will have plenty of work to do soon. The enumeration will have to be taken.

The grumbling spirit seems to be among some of our good people.

Rev. T. J. Anthony preached a wonderful sermon at the M. E. church last Sabbath afternoon from the text "I am the Bread of Life."

Quite a number of our people are sick with colds, sore throat and kindred diseases.

The log-haulers can't haul logs now.

Mrs. Walton has recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia sufficiently to do her own house work.

Mr. A. L. Chew was beginning to think about sailing if the water got up any higher, last Friday night.

The recent rains found all the leaks in the roofs around here.

Chas. Demoss will start a new butcher-shop.

Claude Walton was home from Hamilton, O., last Sunday, to see his mother, who has been sick with pneumonia.

Fishermen say that the recent high water insures good fishing later in the spring. During the high water the fish go up the smaller streams from the rivers in large numbers. Several fishermen are already hunting up their tackle and they will soon be found on the first warm day along the banks of some creek.

A merchant in an Eastern city put an advertisement in a paper headed: "Boy Wanted!" The next morning he found a bad box on his doorstep, with this inscription on the top: "How will this one answer?" On opening it he found a nice, fat, chubby-looking specimen of the article he wanted, warmly done up in flannel.—Ex.

Owing to the closing down of the glass factories and the substitution of the glass-blowing machinery, glass blowers are leaving the gas belt by the scores. Wednesday a party of thirty passed through this city on its way to Pittsburg and yesterday twenty did the same. They expressed themselves dissatisfied with the conditions in the State, and believe they can find better employment near Pittsburg.—Richmond Sun.

While working at a news case in his printing office, an up-to-date editor was so startled by a resounding crash behind him that he dropped a whole stickful of type. On looking into the matter, he learned that the new "devil" had carelessly brushed along the wall and had caused the office towel to fall from its accustomed nail by the sink. It had broken into a hundred pieces or more.—Western Publisher.

Governor Durbin has issued the annual Arbor day proclamation. The events occur on Friday, April 22, and on Friday, Oct. 21, and these dates are "to be observed by the planting of trees for the beautification of public and private grounds and highways. And it is also recommended that those having charge of public and private schools shall provide for the further celebration of the second date set apart by appropriate exercises."

T. H. C. Hilligoss, formerly of this county, writes the Republican from Manitou, Colorado, saying that it was his intention to be here in old Rush with his friends of his boyhood days, but on account of some business matters he will be unable to reach here before May. Mr. Hilligoss has cottages to rent to tourists who go to Manitou Springs for their health and says that the largest number of tourists who ever visited that resort are expected this season.

Mrs. Anna Scanlan who last Thursday, was stricken with paralysis, is reported much better today.

The supporters of the High School base ball team for the season of 1904 will equip themselves with 'varsity caps and megaphones.

The Landis-Steele contest takes place today at Peru. Unless Cowgill or Good enter the race and receive Steel's strength, Landis has a safe majority.

Mrs. Anna Readle, who sometime ago disposed of her farm in Posey township, has moved to this city, and will occupy Mrs. Thomas Scanlan's property, on First street.

The Shelbyville Democrat, in commenting upon the case of the deserted child in this city, says the woman who abandoned it was seen to leave on the early morning C., H. & D. by the "bus men and loafers." Judge us not by yourself, my dear Shelbyville.

In the contest by the New Castle Democrat where the question to be determined was how many feathers there were on a rooster, the feathers were counted Saturday and it was found to have 6105 feathers, and one young man guessed the exact number. The guesses ranged from 875 up to 60,450.

The Rushville High School, when it accompanies its base ball team to Shelbyville, May 14th, will travel in a special car. The car will be attached to the 7:55 a. m. train, and will be left on a siding, near the ball grounds, so that as soon as the game is over the excursionists can immediately board the car and be picked up by the north-bound J. M. & L. train on its way to this city. The High School Glee club and Mandolin club will probably go with them and a good time is assured. Some one will also be secured to go along and watch the car during the absence of its occupants at Shelbyville and anything left in the car will be perfectly safe. The fare for the round trip, will be 55c.

Hacker For Judge.

[Greensburg Review.]

The mass convention at Columbus on Saturday, to select delegates to the Republican Judicial convention to be held on June 1st came off according to program, and sixteen Bartholomew county delegates were instructed to vote for Marshall Hacker for Judge.

No instructions were given for Prosecutor, so far as we have been able to learn, and it may be that Decatur county will be given this crumb, in consideration of her three hundred Republican majority. John W. Morgan, who had been a candidate for Judge up to the time of calling of the convention referred to, sent a letter to the convention directing that his name should not be presented or need in the selection of delegates.

Houses Become Scarce.

Never before in the history of Rushville were houses so scarce. People coming here from other cities are forced to leave their furniture on the car until the limit and to then store it for a time until a house can be secured. There are about a dozen houses in course of erection and all of them are rented now.
